If you have a clog but are worried about damage to pipes from metal snakes, you have a great alternative in hydro jetting. Not only does hydro jetting clean your pipes without scratching them, it cleans pipes completely rather than just punching a hole through clogs. This approach can extend the life of your pipes by removing harmful sludge and deposits.

Don't let drain backups and build ups get you down. At Beehive Plumbing, we provide professional hydro jetting service across Utah for residential and commercial customers alike. We'll clear up even the most clogged and backed up systems more effectively than traditional drain cleaning.

What is Hydro Jetting?

Rather than relying on abrasive metal surfaces, hydro jets release water at an incredibly high speed. The pressure generated by the water not only cuts through sludge and clogs, it turns them into mush that then flushes out of pipes. Hydro jetting is so powerful, it can cut through tree and plant roots. Thanks to a fiber optic camera, professionals who hydro jet pipes can assess their overall condition and choose the correct water pressure to properly treat clogs and buildup.

Hydro Jetting Sewer Lines

Clogged sewage lines are a nightmare to clean up. It is not unusual for residue from soap and other products to build up in your pipes. This reduces the amount of space for water and waste to flow through, leading to clogs. Hydro jetting these pipes not only gets rid of the clog, it removes the harmful residues from your pipes. Because pipes are restored to their original flow capacity after hydro jetting, it takes much longer for future clogs to develop. This method of pipe cleaning is so effective, one treatment can last up to four times longer than a standard snake treatment. If you've ever dealt with a pipe that clogs frequently, it's easy to see how cost effective a long-lasting hydro jetting treatment can be.
